AGREEMENT

This Agreement is entered into on 1-14-85 between The Point Foundation ("Author") and North Point Press ("Publisher"), concerning a "Work" of approximately 300 pages, and tentatively entitled THE COEVOLUTION QUARTERLY READER

The Author and Publisher hereby agree that:

1. PUBLISHING RIGHTS. The Author grants to the Publisher during the full term of copyright of the work and all renewals and extensions of the copyright, the exclusive right to print, publish, license, and sell the Work in the book form in the English language throughout the world.

2. DELIVERY OF MANUSCRIPT AND MATERIALS. The Author shall deliver to the Publisher on or before 3-1-85 and in a form satisfactory to the Publisher:

(a) one copy of the manuscript of the Work as finally revised by the author;

(b) all photographs, drawings, maps, tables, charts or other illustrative material essential to the work;

(c) written permission for all items, graphic and textual, from other published and unpublished works incorporated in the Work by the Author;

(d) any additional material such as an index, glossary, bibliography, etc., if required by the Publisher, within two weeks after receipt of page proofs of the Work.

If any of the foregoing materials are not so delivered by the author, the publisher will have the right to provide same at the Author's expense.

If the Author fails to deliver a satisfactory manuscript as agreed, the Publisher will have the right to terminate this Agreement and to recover from the Author any sums advanced in connection with the Work. Until this Agreement has been terminated and until such sums have been repaid, the Author may not have the Work published elsewhere.

3. EDITING. The Publisher may edit the manuscript at its discretion, subject to final approval by the Author.

4.PROOFREADING. The Publisher will set type from the revised final copy-edited manuscript. Galley proofs of the Work will be submitted to the Author. The Author will read, correct, and return promptly to the Publisher all proofs of the Work. If the Author fails to return proofs the publisher may make such changes as it deems necessary and proceed with the publication of the Work.

The cost of changes made in galley proofs by the Author will be borne by the Publisher to the extent of 15% of the initial composition costs of setting the manuscript; changes made by the Author in excess of 15% of such costs will be charged to the Author. The cost of all changes made by the Author after corrected galley proofs have been returned to the Publisher will be charged in full to the Author.

5. PUBLICATION. Within a reasonable time after delivery of the final revised manuscript, the Publisher will publish the Work at its own expense, in such style and manner and at such price as it deems best, but will not be responsible for delays caused by circumstances beyond its control.

The Publisher will give to the Author, on Publication, ten copies of each regular edition of the Work. The Author may purchase further copies for his personal use at a discount of forty (40%) percent of the Publisher's list price.

6. COPYRIGHT AND COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENTS. The Publisher will apply for copyright in the United States of the Work in conformity with the Copyright Law of the United States and the Universal Copyright Convention in the name of The Point Foundation and may effect any renewals or extensions of the copyright provided by law.

If the copyright of the Work is infringed and the Publisher and the Author agree to join in an action for infringement, the expenses and net recovery will be shared equally. If the Author and the Publisher do not agree to proceed jointly, then either party may bring an infringement action and that party alone shall bear all expenses and receive any recovery; however, if any such party is not the registered copyright owner, the other party agrees to be named as co-plaintiff, without assuming any liability for expenses or claim to benefits thereby.

7. USE OF AUTHOR'S NAME AND LIKENESS. The Publisher may use and authorize use of the Author's name and likeness and photograph in connection with advertising, publicizing, licensing, and promoting his Work.

8. ROYALTIES. (a) On all copies of the regular edition sold, the Publisher will pay to the Author a royalty of ten percent of the retail price on all copies sold up to 10,000 copies, twelve and one-half thereafter.

(b) The Publisher shall pay the Author as an advance against and on account of all monies accruing to him under this this Agreement, the sum of 10,000 Dollars, payable one-half upon signing this contract and one-half upon publication.

(c) The Publisher shall pay the Author seven (7%) percent of Publisher's list price for copies sold, less returns, at or less than half the retail price. The Publisher shall pay the Author five (5%) percent of the Publisher's list price for copies sold for export.

(d) No royalty shall be paid for copies furnished gratis to the Author, for advertising or review, for serials, for promotional use, for charitable or public purposes from which the Publisher receives no proceeds, as remainder copies sold at or below cost, or, for damaged copies sold at or below cost.

(e) The Publisher shall report semi-annually to the Author each October 31st and April 30th on sales for the preceding six months. These reports together with any payments shall be rendered to the Author within thirty days. If less than $10.00 is due in any accounting period, the Publisher shall render no accounting until the next period when $10.00 or more is due. The Publisher may withhold, for not more than two reporting periods, the sum amounting to not more than twenty percent of monies due as a reserve against returns.

9. ADDITIONAL RIGHTS. The author further grants the Publisher the exclusive right on his behalf to license, sell, or otherwise dispose of the following rights of his Work: publication or sale by book clubs; publication of a reprint edition by another publisher; condensations; serializations in magazines or newspapers; dramatic, motion picture, phonograph and broadcasting rights; electronic, mechanical or visual reproduction rights; publication in the British Commonwealth; publication in foreign languages; publication in or selections thereof in anthologies, compilations, and digests; and microprint and microfilm versions.

All net proceeds (after all commissions, foreign taxes, and other charges) shall be divided as fifty (50%) percent to the Author and as fifty (50%) percent to the Publisher.

10. WARRANTIES. The Author warrants that he has full power to make this agreement; that the Work has not previously been published in book form in the English language; that all rights conveyed to the Publisher hereunder are free of encumbrances or prior agreements; that the Work does not violate any copyright in any way. The Author will hold harmless and defend the Publisher and its licenses against all claims, demands, or suits related to these warranties. The Author will compensate the Publisher for any loss or damage, and for any sums payable in settlement of any claim or judgement, including counsel fees, resulting from any breach of such warranties.

The Author further warrants that the Work contains nothing libelous or otherwise unlawful and that the Work does not violate any right of privacy, right of publicity or any other right. The Publisher and Author hereby agree to jointly defend against all claims, demands or suits related hereto, and to share equally all expenses, including attorney's fees thereof, and to cooperate, one with the other, in achieving a reasonable settlement thereof, when possible.

The Author and Publisher will promptly notify each other of any claims or suits hereunder. If a joint defense is not agreeable, each will be entitled to his own attorney and each will bear his attorney's expenses. These warranties will survive in the event this Agreement is terminated.

11. OUT OF PRINT. If the Work should be out of print for six months or more in all editions, the Publisher shall offer its plates, if maintained, to the Author at 50% of their cost of manufacturing and composition, and any remaining bound copies or sheets at their manufacturing costs. The Work shall be considered in print if it is on sale under the Publisher's imprint or under the licensed imprint of another publisher or if it is under option or contract of publication in another edition.

If at any time after one year and one day from the original date of publication hereunder the Work is out of print as herein defined, and the Author makes written demand on the Publisher to reissue the Work, the Publisher will have six months after such written demand to reprint the Work or to contract for its reissuance. Upon the Publisher's failure to cause reissue of the Work, and upon payment to the Publisher of any sums owing from the Author, excluding any unearned advance paid hereunder, this Agreement will terminate and all rights herein granted will revert to the Author, subject, however, to any licenses or options previously granted by either party and to the continuing payment to the Publisher of its share of the proceeds from any such licenses or options.

12. SALES OF OVERSTOCK. If at any time after one year from the original publication of the Work hereunder, the Publisher deems that it is overstocked with copies of the Work, the Publisher may dispose of such overstock at the best price obtainable, with the Author having a sixty day right of first refusal thereon at said price upon written notice from the Publisher.

13. NOTICE TO AUTHOR. All notices, statements, and payments due the Author under this Agreement will be sent to the Author at the following address:

The Point Foundation

150 Gate Five Road

Sausalito, Ca. 94965

The Author shall have the sole and exclusive duty to inform Publisher, in writing, of any change in his address.

14. MISCELLANEOUS. This agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns of the Author and the successors or assigns of the Publisher. The Author may assign any net sums due or to become due him hereunder but he may not assign any other right or obligations hereunder. This agreement will be in accordance with the laws of the State of California. This agreement constitutes the whole agreement between the Author and the Publisher and may not be modified except by the written consent of both parties.

AUTHOR

Par POINT

ADDRESS

SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

NORTH POINT PRESS
850 Talbot Avenue
Berkeley, California
94706